The surgeon, Dr. Wheaton of Providence, who was in charge neglected the poor fellows to such a degree and was himself always intoxicated that Dr. King and another physician from here have made a representation to the government, Mr. Prescott (minister at Trinity) was there three days doing good. Everybody does something. We give Mr. Prescott or another responsible person money & they give the articles themselves to the soldiers. Newport people have been most liberal and the strangers join - some of the soldiers have worn their shirts more than a month, they had no change of garments and were in a most filthy condition on board the ship..."	1862		Hunter, Mary Rotch			Hunter, Charles; Lovell Hospital; Wheaton, Dr.

I have looked them up, and have ascertained the following facts: Sir John Bourchaier (died 1660) entered the Long Parliament in 1645. In December 1648 he was appointed on of the judges of King Charles, and signed the King's death-warrant. A number of Committees of Indemnity were appointed by the Long Parliament throughout the troublous times of the Civil Wars; I suppose Bourchaier, being an M.P., served on one of these Committees, as your letter indeed goes to prove.
